The word "Allmond" (or "Allmonds") is French. The family came originally from Languedoc Province in southern France. The name is still an ancient and honorable one in this region. Certain members of the family sought refuge in England during Queen Elizabeth's reign, and about 1600 Joseph Allmond (1) and John Allmond (2) migrated from England to America, settling near Wilmington, Delaware. They were among the first settlers in this region, and it is recorded that they were forced to live in other parts that could build houses.

INTRODUCTION

This book is primarily a history of Reuben Jefferis Allmond. It is not meant to be a history of the Allmond Family. It appears that most of the Allmonds have lived and died in Delaware where the first members of the family settled on coming to America. The name "Allmond" is still a common name in and around Wilmington, Delaware, and there are many Allmond descendants living in that region. On the other hand, R. J. Allmond broke from the family tradition, moved to Illinois, and lived the greater part of his life in Palmyra, Illinois. Most of his descendants have lived, or are now living, in central Illinois.

The information presented herein with respect to the early history of R. J. Allmond was obtained largely from two sources: "Genealogy of the Allmond Family" by Hon. Ignatius C. Grubb and "A History of the Talley Family" by George A. Talley. Since these books were published more than fifty years ago, we may assume that they are historically important. Due credit should be given to the authors of these books.

This booklet is not presented as a work of perfection. It is known to be incomplete in the Eighth and Ninth Generations, and the chances are good that inaccuracies exist in dates, spelling of names, etc. The task of obtaining complete and accurate information on the descendants, and transcribing the same, has not been an easy one. In a few cases the information sought has not been forthcoming.

NATIONALITY

The word "Allmond" (or "Allemand") is French. The family came originally from Lanquedoc Province in southern France....The name is still an ancient and honorable one in this region. Certain members of the family sought refuge in England during Queen Elizabeth's reign, and about 1686 Joseph Allmond (1) and John Allmond (2) migrated from England to America, settling near Wilmington, Delaware. They were among the first settlers in this region, and it is recorded that they were forced to live in caves until they could build houses.

FIFTH GENERATION IN AMERICA

14. REUBEN JEFFERIS ALLMOND was born August 11, 1818 in Wilmington, Delaware. He was the oldest child of a large family. He was reared and educated in his native city, and commenced the study of medicine at the age of sixteen by matriculating in Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. He graduated from this school in 1839, and began his medical practice at Talleyville, New Castle County, Delaware. He stayed here until 1849 when he moved to Morgan County, Ohio. Four years later he moved to Ogle County, Illinois, where he practiced medicine and managed a farm on the side. In 1858 he sold his farm and moved to Piassa, Macoupin County, Illinois, where he stayed for three years. In 1861 he settled permanently in Palmyra, Illinois. Here he followed his profession until a short time before his death in 1899.

Dr. Allmond was married to Ann Glover Talley of Talleyville, Delaware in 1841. She was born in 1822 and passed away at Piassa, Illinois in 1860. Ten children were born to this union, although the tenth child did not survive birth. Then in 1862 he was married to Elizabeth James of Carrollton, Illinois. She was born September 14, 1831, and passed away at Palmyra, Illinois, June 10, 1912. Six children were born to this union but the first three died in infancy.

FIFTH GENERATION IN AMERICA (con't.)

Dr. Allmond was a man of large stature, tipping the scales in later years at more than three hundred pounds. He had a great capacity for food, being especially fond of roasting ears and oysters. He was highly successful as a physician, and established a splendid reputation at each of his locations. His practice at Palmyra extended over a wide territory. He continued his office practice after he was unable to travel over country roads by horse and buggy. His faithful service and long stay in Palmyra endeared him to the people of this community. He and his family were active and faithful members of the Palmyra Methodist Episcopal Church. He was a charter member of the Palmyra Masonic Lodge and served as Worshipful Master of the Lodge. He was also active in the Odd Fellow Fraternity. Politically, he belonged to the Democratic Party, voting a straight ticket except once. On one occasion he scratched his ticket and voted for a Republican. It turned out that that Republican was elected by one vote, which he always felt was his vote. He was conscience stricken at the outcome of the election and vowed he would never scratch his ticket again if the Lord would forgive him this one time.

An early account of the life of our subject is found in "A History of the Talley Family" by George A. Talley. This account is of especial value and interest, since it was written about fifty years ago while Dr. Allmond was still alive. Quoting from this account, "Dr. Allmond was a remarkably active man, of very large stature, and of almost unfailling endurance. It has been asserted that in his practice in Illinois he exceeded all others in the number of hours spent among his patients. All calls were answered, if within his power, whether in the day time or at night. He was, as a family physician, most faithful, interested, and skillful. He was interested in all good works, and was an active member of the Methodist Church."

He died January 8, 1899 at Palmyra, Illinois, and was laid to rest in the Oak Hill Cemetery at Palmyra.

26. PHOEBE ELLEN ALLMOND was born May 5, 1851 in Rausau, Morgan County, Ohio. She spent several years of her early life with an aunt, Ann Clayton, of Wilmington, Delaware, her mother having died when she was a little girl. When her father, Dr. Allmond, later located in Piassa, Illinois, she joined the family group. She was married to Andrew Jackson Crum of Palmyra, Illinois, on September 9, 1873. From this union came a large number of descendants, including ten children.

Mrs. Crum spent a long and useful life on a farm near Palmyra, Illinois. Her life had to do largely with her home and children. She was active and tireless in carrying out her household duties, and in ministering to the needs of her many children. It is no small task to raise eight children to adulthood, especially when your home lacks electricity and modern conveniences.

She was noted for her friendliness and hospitality. No traveller was ever refused lodging, and friends and relatives were always welcome. Next to her family, Mrs. Crum enjoyed and devoted herself to church work. She was converted at the Maxfield Gardner Meeting in 1870 and became a member of the Palmyra Methodist Church at the early age of nineteen. She remained a faithful member to the end, contributing to its support both financially and spiritually.

She died suddenly on December 23, 1927 and was laid to rest in the new Palmyra Cemetery.

63. EDWIN WALLACE CRUM, M.D., was born March 1, 1876 on the old Crum farm northwest of Palmyra, Illinois. He helped with the work on the farm while attending the Landreth rural school and the Palmyra High School. He graduated from this high school on April 14, 1893, and that Fall enrolled in the Central Normal College at Danville, Ind. After a seven month term he was granted a Teacher's Certificate. He taught at the Landreth rural school during 1894-95. In the Spring of 1895 he returned to the Indiana College for additional training, and on June 30, 1896 he graduated with a B.S. degree. During 1896-97 he taught a second time at the Landreth school.

In the Fall of 1897 he entered Barnes Medical College, St. Louis, Missouri. After three years of study he received his M.D. Degree. On June 13, 1900, after an examination before the Illinois State Medical Board, he was granted a license to practice medicine in Illinois. His class was the first one required to take this examination as all previous classes were granted licenses on the basis of a diploma from a recognized Medical College.

He began his long career as physician at Lynville, Illinois Morgan County. It was here that he met and married Ethel Ray Jones. The wedding took place May 22, 1901. He soon moved from Lynville to Manchester, Illinois, and in the Fall of 1903 he moved from Manchester to Glasgow, Illinois, Scott County. He practiced at Glasgow for four years when he moved to Palmyra, Illinois, where his maternal grandfather had practiced medicine for many years. In the Fall of 1917 he moved to Waverly, Illinois, Morgan County, where he practiced continuously and with little or no let-up up to a year or so of his death.

63. EDWIN WALLACE CRUM (con't.)

Dr. Crum enjoyed a large and lucrative practice, and was ever ready to respond to the call of the sick, even though the call often required a slow, tough trip over bad country roads. In his early years of practice he was truly a horse and buggy doctor. He devoted his whole life and soul to his profession and always took a great interest in the ills and complaints of his patients, looking after the poor as well as the wealthy.

Dr. Crum had music as his chief hobby. During his college days he studied music, and became quite proficient on the violin and cello. At various other times he played band instruments, such as cornet, clarinet, solo alto and piccolo. He played in many good orchestras and bands. For several years he played piccolo in the Ansar Shrine Band, Springfield, Illinois, and as a member of this band, traveled to the far corners of the country.

Dr. Crum always took an active interest in church and community enterprises. He confessed Christ at a revival meeting at the Palmyra Christian Church, and was buried with his Lord in Baptism April, 1888. He belonged to various Christian churches at his different locations, but in recent years was an active member and Elder of the Waverly Christian Church. He was a member of the I.O.O.F. and Knights of Pythias at Palmyra, Illinois. He was raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason in Waverly Lodge, No. 118, A.F. & A.M. on April 22, 1919. On October 26, 1928 he was one of a Class of 600 to receive the Scottish Rite Degrees and Shrine at Springfield, Illinois, and maintained an active interest in the various bodies. He was also a member of M.W.A. and R.N.A., both of Waverly, Illinois. He served on the Waverly Grade School Board, at various times, over a fifteen year period. He was always affiliated politically with the Democratic Party, and served, at various times, as Central Committeeman.

He died suddenly in St. Petersburg, Florida, on February 13, 1952 and was laid to rest in the Waverly Cemetery, Waverly, Illinois.

SEVENTH GENERATION IN AMERICA (con't.)

71. FERRIS BERTRAND CRUM, Ph.D., was the tenth and last child of Andrew Jackson Crum and Phoebe Ellen Crum. He was born July 27, 1893 on the farm homestead near Palmyra, Illinois. His early life was that of a farm child in a large family where there were chores and responsibilities to fit almost any age or aptitude.

His early education took place in the Landreth rural school and the Palmyra High School. In due time he attended Knox College, Galesburg, Illinois, graduating after four years with a B.S. Degree. This was in 1916. He secured his M.S. Degree from the University of Illinois in 1924 and his Ph. D., in Chemistry from the University of Chicago in 1930. Throughout all of his schooling he did a high grade of work, and was recognized for this in high school by being valedictorian of his class, at Knox by rating a cum laude diploma, and in his graduate work by being elected to Sigma Xi, an honorary scientific fraternity.

He was married to Blanche Helen Petersen, a Knox College girl and daughter of Constant Ubben Petersen and Mary Jane Chidester Petersen of Joliet, Illinois, in September 1923. To this union were born three children.

Following graduation from Knox College, Mr. Crum became Superintendent of Schools at Fairview, Illinois. He held this position from 1916-1918 when he resigned it in favor of enlistment in the Chemical Warfare Service. He was discharged from the Army December 1918, and shortly thereafter took a teaching position in the Moline High School as Director of Athletics and Head of the Science Department. He moved to a better position in the Chemistry Department of the Joliet Township High School one year later where he remained until 1923. Following a full year at the University of Illinois, during which time he had an Assistantship in Chemistry, he completed the requirements for his M.S. Degree in Chemistry. He then accepted a position in Morton Junior College, Cicero, Illinois. He continued his graduate work in Chemistry at the University of Chicago while teaching at Morton and finally secured a Leave of Absence for one year in order to complete his residence requirements for a Ph.D. Degree. He was granted the Degree in June, 1930. He continued to teach at Morton until he had rounded out twenty years. During the emergency of World War II (1944), he left the teaching profession to become a Research Chemist for the Dearborn Chemical Company, Chicago. During the summer of 1952 he resigned his position with this Company to accept an Assistant Professorship in Chemistry at the University of Illinois, Navy Pier Branch.

93. MARIE EDITH SPRINKLE, daughter of Dr. Welcome B. and Ida M. Sprinkle, was born into a happy home on February 3, 1893 at Oaktown, Ind. After graduating from Oaktown High School, she attended in succession Indiana University, Vincennes University and Terre Haute State Teachers College. She was graduated from the latter institution. She taught school six years before marrying Robert P. Sebree of Terre Haute in 1916. They settled in Indianapolis and to them were born two daughters. When Mr. Sebree went to World War I and Mrs. Sebree was left with the two little girls, she went back to her parent's home in Oaktown and returned to teaching. She has been teaching continuously since that time.

Mrs. Sebree has been an active member of the Oaktown Methodist Church for over fifty years. She is a member of the Oaktown Chapter of the Eastern Star, and holds membership in various other Clubs and organizations. She has traveled extensively in the United States and has crossed the border into Canada and Mexico. She is an interesting person and happy in disposition. She dotes on her grandchildren and claims "people" as her hobby. She has a wonderful philosophy of life which is expressed in her desire to do something good for someone each day.

In 1937 the family bought a farm near Wapello, Iowa, and in 1940 George William was graduated from the Wapello Community High School. He was industrious and competent and loved farming. But there was a war going on and his country came first, so in August 1942 he enlisted in the Army Air Corps as an Aviation Cadet, and went into training at Greenville, Texas. It was said of him, "He was a natural in the air". He ranked among the first in his class and was chosen by his classmates and instructors to represent the class in the "stunting exercises" for the graduation ceremonies. Ten days before his graduation in practice maneuvers he and an instructor crashed and both were instantly killed. This was on October 28, 1943. George William was a member of the First Methodist Church of Wapello, and the first grandchild of Anna Padgett Grantham.

There is one gold star in the Wapello Community High School and the name beside it reads "George William Person"; but through it and beyond it in the hearts of

112. JUANITA PRISCILLA GRANTHAM, born October 5, 1898, married Harold Atchinson Kleinman, June 28, 1924

Children:

- 251 I David Allmond Kleinman, Ph.D., was born April 9, 1925, at Moline, Illinois. He attended the public schools of Moline, graduating as salutatorian of his High School class in 1943. He was called up for draft but was given a 4-F rating. Two weeks after graduation he left for Cambridge, Mass. where he enrolled in the Chemical Engineering Division at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Due to the accelerated war program, he received his B. S. Degree in Chemical Engineering in February 1946. In the Fall of 1946 he returned to MIT and worked out a Master's Degree in mathematics. He received this Degree in June, 1947. The following year he taught in the Engineering Division of Brown University, Providence, R.I. and at the same time carried on work in the Graduate School for a Doctor's Degree in Physics. In 1949 he was awarded a fellowship at Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island, an Institution for pure research financed by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and staffed by Eastern Universities. He completed his research work here, and in May 1952 Brown University conferred upon him the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Physics. His research work had to do with the structure of the atom, the title of his thesis being "The Scattering of Slow Neutrons by Crystals".

Dr. Kleinman has been asked to remain at Brookhaven National Laboratory to complete the work he has been doing.

ANN TALLEY ALLMOND

The authors have decided to close this history with an account of the life and death of Ann Talley Allmond, who was an Allmond through marriage. She was the first wife of Dr. R. J. Allmond and is the forebear of almost all of those whose names appear in this genealogy. She gave birth to ten children, three of which died in infancy.

There is little recorded information pertaining to the life of this saintly woman, but certain verbal information has been passed down by her daughters. She was the daughter of Rev. Lewis S. Talley, Methodist minister and farmer, and Priscilla Clark. The author's mother often spoke of her mother and what she said usually had to do with spiritual qualities. One gained the impression that Mrs. Allmond was deeply religious, loving in disposition, and a woman of great faith.

The authors are especially anxious to reproduce and pass on the Obituary of Mrs. Allmond as it is unlikely that many of these documents are still in existence. This is an amazing document as to length, beauty of expression and sentiment. It is the best recorded account of her early life. After reading this document one cannot help but be impressed with the sweet and saintly disposition of this woman, and with her unquestionable faith in the life beyond the grave. The document will be reproduced verbatim.

The Obituary reads as follows:

Died, in Piasa, Macoupin County, August 12, 1860, Ann G., consort of Dr. R. J. Allmond, and daughter of the late Rev. Lewis S. Talley, of Brandywine Hundred, New Castle County, Delaware, aged 38 years, 2 months and 20 days.

ANN TALLEY ALLMOND Obituary (Con't.)

The subject of the above memoir was born in Brandywine Hundred, New Castle County, Delaware, May 22nd, A.D. 1822. She was early taught the principles of our holy religion, by her pious parents, and, when but a little girl, she embraced the religion of our Lord Jesus Christ, and joined the old Bethel M.E.Church, Chester Circuit, Philadelphia Conference, where she remained a faithful and consistent member for a number of years.

She moved west with her husband in 1849, and though she was far from her friends and relatives, she was contented, and was always a firm and devoted Christian until she was called to join the Church triumphant. Her afflictions were severe, and continued three weeks; but during the whole time her confidence in God was unshaken, and she bore it all with an humble, Christianlike resignation. Often, during her sickness, she was joyous in anticipation of "going home", as she said, to "join the home circle in Heaven". A few hours before she breathed her last, she called her husband to her side; "My dear", she said, "we have had many happy seasons together; they will close with to-night, as I shall die before morning; but I hope we shall meet "bye and bye", to enjoy an eternity of happiness together in Heaven. Don't fret or cry; all is well with me; take care of the children and bring them with you to Heaven". She then fell into sweet sleep; when she awoke, she said: "Oh, my dear! what strange feelings; can this be death?"

"Oh, if this be death, I soon shall be
From every pain and sorrow free!
All is well! All is well!
"Oh, yes, all is well; sweet Jesus
I soon shall be at home with Thee".

She sent word to her brothers, sisters and relatives in New Castle County, Delaware, and Delaware County, Pennsylvania, to be sure and meet her in Heaven; gave the parting kiss to her disconsolate husband and children one by one, then in an audible voice said, "Farewell, I am going home".

She sweetly and calmly breathed her last on Sabbath morning, August 12, 1860, at 20 minutes before 3 o'clock. She was followed to the grave at Piasa Cemetery, Macoupin County, Illinois, by an unusually large concourse of friends where Rev. George W. Wagoner of Southern Illinois Conference, M.E. Church, preached a deeply impressive funeral discourse, from the 4th Chapter of the I. Thessalonians, 14th verse.

Thus lived and passed triumphantly to Heaven, one who was loved and esteemed by all who ever formed her acquaintance, one of the kindest and most affectionate of companions and mothers.
